Macbeth Starts Tonight . . .

AKP Takes New Members

New members initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, last Thursday were Dallas Roots, St. Regis; Don Needham, Peder Hoiness, and Lew Penwell, all of Billings; Harry Fuhs, Townsend;

Bob Abbott, Kalispell; Wayne Roseth, Great Falls; Everett Kofod, Everett, Wash.; Anton Hollinger, Butte; Douglas Anderson, Conrad; and Doug Beighle, Deer Lodge.

The banquet and initiation took place at the Steak House. Welcoming addresses were given by Fred Henningsen, assistant professor of business administration; Warren Mead '49, deputy counselor of AKP; and Theodore H. Smith, dean of the business administration school.

Dean Smith and Mead were presented with the Distinguished Service award for meritorious service to MSU's chapter.

Snow and Ice Break Greenhouse Sunday Afternoon

Snow and ice falling off the roof of the forestry school building Sunday broke 42 panes of glass in the forestry school greenhouse. Besides the broken glass, several student experiments were damaged slightly.

According to Bruce Watson, Yellowstone Park, Wyo., and Dick Leicht, Baker, forestry seniors, the ice started slipping about two o'clock Sunday afternoon and continued falling on the greenhouse throughout the afternoon. Leicht and Watson had been in the greenhouse watering plants during the afternoon.

Musicians To Pool Recital Talent

The second in a series of student recitals will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Main Hall auditorium, according to an announcement released yesterday by the music school.

Included in the program are Lawrence Coloff, Great Falls, cellist; Marieanne Carroll, Missoula, piano; Monroe DeJarnette, Missoula, clarinet; Donna Nooney, Missoula, piano; and Irvin Brusletten, Polson, clarinet.

All music majors are required to attend these performances. They last about 35 minutes.

Steam Causes False Alarm

"Aw hell, it's just steam," was the remark of the fireman who climbed the ladder to discover the cause of last night's false alarm here.

An unidentified person spotted the steam vapor coming from the edge of the roof of the forestry school and reported it as a fire. A steam line has been placed around the eaves of the forestry school to prevent snow and ice from gathering in the gutter. It was vapor from this steam line that was mistakenly thought to be smoke by a passerby.

Nine Chief Pushes Attend Forester's; Cullen Wins

Nearly 600 people attended the 35th annual Forester's ball last week end, according to chief push Don Cullen, Winamac, Ind. Cullen estimates the forestry club loan fund will receive about $300 profits from the ball.

Nine of the 37 former chief pushes, who had been invited to the ball, were able to attend. This year's ball was given in honor of these former chief pushes.

Former chief pushes attending the ball were G. M. DeJarnette '28, Missoula; Al Spaulding '32, Missoula; Orville Sparrow '37, Wise River; Carl Simpson '41, Ashland; Tony Evanko '43, Spokane, Wash.; Jack Schmaltz '47, Missoula; Euel Davis '49, Lander, Wyo.; Joe Sieminski '50, Libby; and Harry Covey '51, Missoula.

Matrix Table Speaker Tells Of Approaching New Era

"Washington politics are approaching a new era," Doris Fleeson, Washington correspondent for Bell syndicate, said at Matrix Table last Thursday night at the Hotel Florence.

"The generation of Roosevelt's era have mainly attained the goals they set for themselves during the depression," Miss Fleeson said. "Now new problems face the government."

Miss Fleeson feels that President Truman has been hurt by his loyalties to persons not worthy of his loyalty. Because of this and because he feels his place is secure in history, Miss Fleeson said she does not think Truman will run in the next election.

Truman's Choice

Perhaps Truman will want Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to run, she suggested, but Vinson is not known to the people, nor has he a fiery campaign personality. "I think Vinson will stay where he is," she said.

Governors with their executive training make better presidents than senators, in Miss Fleeson's opinion, and she cited Governor Earl Warren's record as governor of California as excellent training for the White House.

Eisenhower Question

As for Eisenhower's qualifications for the presidency, she said that although he has the personality for a good president, he has great gaps in his knowledge base (please see page four)

"Macbeth" audiences will see a number of MSU drama firsts when the play opens tonight at 8:15 for a five-night run in Simpkins Little theater.

Glenn S. Reznor, Missoula high school teacher and University graduate student who is playing the title role, will appear before an MSU audience for the first time. He is known to Missoula audiences only through his role in the community theater's production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," although he has wide experience in Thiel college drama and Pennsylvania summer stock.

Lovberg Plays Lady

Marjorie Lovberg, who plays Lady Macbeth, has also acted in summer stock, in addition to eight plays at Missoula high school and a major part in "The Madwoman of Chaillot." Those playing the other six major parts have an average acting experience of five parts.

Another first is the original background music written by Monroe DeJarnette, Missoula. Tonight will mark the first public presentation of the composition, as well as the first time background music has been used with a drama production on campus. A 10-piece orchestra will play the 45-minute composition.

On the technical side, a revolving stage will speed the action of the play by making possible flexible and effective stage arrangements. This is the first time this type of stage has been used here. An unusually complicated system of lighting calling for 40 light cues will also help to set the scene. David W. Weiss is technical director and Audrey Linscheid, Vida, is in charge of lights.

Tickets are still available at the Simpkins box office for tonight's performance. Student tickets are 25 cents.

Swollen Rivers Inundate Parts of Five-State Area

BY UNITED PRESS

Swollen rivers are spreading watery destruction over one million acres of rich farmland in five states.

Record January rainfall has spread floods through parts of Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Kentucky, and Pennsylvania. At least seven persons are reported dead in the floods and eight thousand are homeless.

Weathermen predict the worst is yet to come.

Right now, the Ohio and Wabash rivers are doing the heaviest damage, but smaller streams are contributing to the havoc.

Wheeling, W. Va. has had the most bitter taste of the flood waters so far. In all, 30 cities and towns are flooded. Other cities, Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, among them, are threatened by the rising waters.

At Granville, Ohio, a stream that runs across the campus of Denison university is normally a trickle. It's now a raging torrent, and it has knocked out the school's power plant. Classes were dismissed. The muddy Ohio also has overflowed into Marietta college campus and flooded a women's dormitory.

And in Summary . . .

Although the Kaimin got the silent treatment as far as letter response was concerned, last week's editorials dealing with the undesirable outgrowths of Greek activities caused considerable dinner table scuttlebutt.

The failure of anyone to pick up the banner and defend the customs that we criticized indicates that they either can't be or aren't worth defending. If you can't argue for something, better to keep your mouths shut.

The responses from fraternity presidents were typical. In almost every case, the main issue was avoided and the question dragged off into side issues. One president threw on his "holier-than-thou" cap and said that he was amused; another side-stepped the situation by questioning the Kaimin's right to criticize a fraternity practice; another resorted to the rather feeble device of pooh-poohing.

It was virtually impossible for us to throw up straw dummies to knock down in our editorials because, unless we distorted our imaginations, there are no plausible arguments for Hell weeks, paddle use, or discrimination clauses.

In the short range view, those fraternities that practice the above will pout and hold to their petty practices all the tighter. But as another year or two passes, maturity will show its mark, and they will finally grow out of short pants.—D.W.

Assistant Director Of IIE At MSU In College Tour

Miss Olivia Foster, assistant director of the Rocky Mountain office of the Institute of International Education, was in Missoula yesterday and today on a tour of regional colleges and universities.

She will visit foreign students attending MSU under Institute sponsorship and also call on persons in the area interested in foreign exchange activities.

The Institute is the largest private organization in the United States handling the two-way exchange of thousands of students, technicians, professional people, and specialists between this nation and 60 foreign countries.

Several hundred exchange students from every corner of the globe currently are enrolled at Montana's institutions of higher education.

Miss Foster's Montana field trip is part of the Institute's program of keeping in personal touch with students from abroad.

Stassen Charges 'Probable War' By Truman, Taft

Decatur, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Harold Stassen charges that the foreign policy views of Sen. Robert Taft would lead to "probable war."

The former University of Minnesota president, in a speech before central Illinois Republicans at Decatur, also says President Truman's policies could have the same effect.

A candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, Stassen says he is in the race because some political leaders have tried to tell the people they have only a choice between Truman and Taft.

Said Stassen: "I do not agree that America must either be internationalized into failures and probable war by President Truman or isolationized into failures and probable war by Senator Taft."

He also said the United Nations should be reorganized, General MacArthur should be restored as Pacific commander and there should be new "loyal" leadership in the state department.

Religious Week Success at MSC, Says Rev. Wood

The Rev. Bruce K. Wood, head of the University School of Religion, returned from Bozeman Saturday and termed the Montana State college religious emphasis week, in which he participated, as "a most successful one."

Declaring it "very encouraging," he said the great interest shown by the students at Bozeman was very evident. This was especially so in their quest for knowledge about evolution as provided by Biblical research.

Others invited to the state college religious week and familiar to University students here were Rabbi Benjamin Kelson and the Very Rev. Charles E. McAllister, Episcopal dean of St. John's Cathedral in Spokane.

Figures Show Student Support

A recent tabulation made by Gloria Meehan, secretary to the dean of students, shows that 45 per cent of the men enrolled at the University are self-supporting as compared to only 10 per cent of the women. This tabulation was made from the registration forms filled out by 1,507 men and 628 women during registration.

The report shows that 10 per cent of the men and 57 per cent of the women are totally dependent on other financial sources. Two hundred fifty-seven men and 59 women provide half of their school finances.

Grizzlies Gain Split on Southern Skyline Journey

Cowboys Repeat, But Grizzlies Upset Strong Colorado Rams

BY JIM PURCELL

Revising pre-game predictions, Montana State University's battling Grizzlies took over scalping operations at Fort Collins, Saturday night, by dumping the Colorado Rams, 54 to 51. The previous night, Wyoming's smooth rolling Cowboys, with their two-platoon system, plastered the Silvertips at Laramie, 81 to 50.

In their second straight win over the Grizzlies, the Cowpokes were puzzled by Montana's zone defense for the first quarter, but after solving the situation they broke the game open with a 26-point surge in the second quarter, to take a half-time lead of 14 points. Wyoming flashed amazing accuracy at the free-throw line in the first half, hitting 14 of 14. Grizzly coach Jiggs Dahlberg said the Cowpoke accuracy was unanny.

The fine team play of the Cowboys on both offense and defense was the secret of their success. Wyoming's tight defense kept the Grizzlies bottled up most of the time, making them shoot from way out. Although the Grizzlies countered with a platoon system of their own, Wyoming's height again proved a decisive factor in the one-sided fray. Except for a few times, Wyoming's Dick Haag, Ron Rivers, and Bob Burns kept sweeping the backboards. Montana's attempt to add height to the squad by playing the three tall freshmen proved indecisive due to the lack of experience. Grizzly scoring ace Chuck Davis was constantly stopped by the Cowpokes' defense and it wasn't until the second half that he made a shot from the field. Dale Johnson led the Grizzlies with 13 points.

In the Saturday night tilt, the surprising Grizzlies showed fine team play on both defense and offense to throttle the hard charging attack of the Rams, who had beaten the favorite Utah Redskins the night before.

Dahlberg said the Grizzlies hustled all the way to gain the edge. He said, "Although the game was close throughout, the Grizzlies' determination kept them ahead all the way. The added height from the freshmen helped considerably," he added. Montana's accuracy at the free-throw line was not as good against the Rams as it had been against Wyoming, but the percentage of shots from the field proved decisive.

Using practically the same defense they used against the Cowpokes, the Grizzlies slowed the Ram game down. Dahlberg said he used both the single-post and double-post offense against the Colorado team.

Chuck Davis again led the Grizzly attack with 16 points. Bob Sparks and Eddie Anderson led the defensive effort of the Silvertip squad with many rebounds. Sankus, Nickel, and Trinastich helped with their height as Coach Dahlberg substituted frequently.

Tankmen Lose; Travel Again

Grizzly swimmers leave today for Cheney, Wash., to meet Eastern Washington college in a dual swimming meet there Wednesday. This will be the second tank meet for the Grizzly swimmers.

Last Saturday at Brigham City, Utah, the Grizzlies placed third in a triangular meet with Utah and Utah State. Utah's Redskins walked away with the meet by coping nine of 10 first places and totaling 55 points. Utah State had 17 points and the Grizzlies got away with 11.

The Grizzlies were second in the 300-yard relay and second in the 400-yard relay. Grizzly Fred Carl placed second in the 50-yard free-style and Joor Bol was third in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Grizzly swimming Coach Fred Erdhaus says his tank squad definitely lacks experience.

He will take the same squad to Cheney as he took to Brigham City, which included George Harpole, Bob Cooney, Jack Daniels, Bol, Carl, Bruce Ferguson, and John Lowery.

The Eastern Washington Savages will journey to Missoula for a dual meet with the Grizzlies here Saturday.

Luckman Back On Hardwoods Ready to Go

With the preparation of Jack Luckman to the hardwoods, Coach Jiggs Dahlberg began putting his Grizzly cagers through stiff workouts yesterday in preparation for a tough week end.

Luckman has been sidelined with an ankle injury for the past two weeks and yesterday began working with the defensive team. Dahlberg said he hoped Luckman would be in shape to start the Thursday night game against the New Mexico Lobos here.

Dahlberg worked his team on defensive plays yesterday. He substituted all his players to give each man some experience. The Grizzlies will work on both offense and defense today and wind up tomorrow with a light scrimmage.

BYU Still Tops in Skyline; Cowboys Hit Second Place

BY FRANK NORBERG

Brigham Young remained on top in the Skyline basketball conference after last week's games, but Utah dropped to third, and Wyoming climbed into the runner-up spot.

The Cougars from BYU moved ahead in the fourth quarter to win a 59-to-53 conference game from Denver Thursday night, and then outshot the New Mexico Lobos, 72 to 49, Saturday night to remain undefeated in Skyline play.

Wyoming in Two Spot

Wyoming moved into the runner-up position by virtue of their two week-end wins—a 81 to 50 victory over Montana Friday night and a surprisingly one-sided 55 to 36 win over Utah Saturday night. Almost 10,000 people crowded into the new field house at Laramie to watch the crucial Utah-Wyoming game. It was believed to be the largest crowd in Rocky Mountain basketball history.

Utah's favored Redskins were practically out of the running for the conference title after being upset 55 to 43 by Colorado A and M Friday night, and then losing that crucial game to Wyoming Saturday night.

The Colorado Aggies, using only six men in their startling upset, never trailed Utah after the first period. The Aggies held Glen Smith, the leading Skyline scorer from Utah, to only 11 points.

A tight defense and accurate free throw shooting were the factors contributing to Wyoming's conquest of Utah. The Cowboys held the Utes to only 14 points in the first half, and made 10 out of 11 free throws to take a lead that they never relinquished. Glen Smith was held to nine points by the tight Wyoming defense.

Grizzlies Win

The Montana Grizzlies won their second conference game Saturday night when they defeated Colorado A and M 54 to 51 at Fort Collins. The Grizzlies led most of the way,

SN Grabs Ski Meet

The Sigma Nu ski team of Bob Burke, Bob Abbott, and Bill Black, grabbed first place in the intramural ski meet at Diamond mountain Sunday, with a combined team time of 8.47.3.

The Independent ski team was second with a time of 9.10.5 and the Big Eps were third with 9.38.4. The other five teams finished in this order: Independent Social club, Sigma Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, and Phi Sigma Kappa. Cliff Wordal, Sig Ep, turned in the best combined time of 2.50.0. Bob Burke was second with 2.51.1, Lew Penwell, ATO, was third with 2.54.0, Bob Abbott was fourth with 2.55.0 and Ray Ruana of the Independents was fifth with 2.55.4.

The Nus picked up 200 points toward the intramural trophy for the year while the other teams all had five points less than the team ahead of them.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Even his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she hate me so?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stuffy old bird—because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does tree things: Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. (Even limbers up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!) Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's a 'owling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's no talon how the chicks'll go for you.

JOHN L. LEWIS SPEAKS UP IN MINE HEARING

Washington, Jan. 28.—(P)—Mine Union Pres. John L. Lewis attended a senate mine safety hearing today as a spectator, but he wound up as a cross-examiner.

Lewis listened as the senators questioned spokesmen for the mine industry. Then, at two points, he interrupted to ask questions or make comments. Lewis attacked what he called "shameful" mine safety proposals in behalf of miners who, as he put it, "are not yet dead." He will take the stand himself tomorrow.

SYMPHONETTE CONCERT TO BE PRESENTED

A Symphonette concert will be presented Sunday night in Main hall auditorium, according to a music school bulletin issued yesterday.

The concert will begin at 8:15 and will include a varied program of orchestral and piano music.

cause he has spent all his life in military service.

Taft, who has extremely loyal followers, almost to the point of "adoration," is actually confusing, according to Miss Fleson. How a man, whose respect for the law is so great he would not support the Nuremberg trials after the war when feeling ran so high on the issue, can support a man like Senator McCarthy, I cannot understand, she said.

Taft Has Lead

"I believe that Taft now has the lead for the presidency, but that Eisenhower has great personal appeal. Governor Warren, in my opinion, will be nominated only in the case of a Taft-Eisenhower deadlock," Miss Fleson said.

Commenting on foreign affairs, she feels that we are farther from war with Russia than we were a year ago.

Reasons Why

The reasons for this are: (1) American defense production is really getting rolling in 1952, whereas before it was only a blueprint; (2) the European defense system will become an effective holding force; (3) Duplication of a similar defense system has been started in the Mediterranean and a strong fleet is stationed in those waters; (4) Many supply and technological problems pertaining to atomic energy have been conquered; (5) Our determined and effective conduct in Korea. "Prior to Korea, Russia had been able to place country after country in Communist hands with little more than an anguished outcry from the rest of the world," she said; and (5) the decline of influence and size of the Communist party outside the Iron Curtain.

Tree Town, Jan. 25, 1952.—PU—Willie Woodchopper, recent rejectee from the Law School, amazed no one by becoming, in record time, the honor student of the Tree School. Willie was recently crowned Chief Brush Bat in charge of plug tobacco and when interviewed said: "A man can do anything a ape can. A Forester is a man. ## Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 33...THE SHEEP

They tried to fool him with the "quick-trick" cigarette mildness tests—but he wouldn't go astray! We know as well as he there's only one fair way to test cigarette mildness. And millions of smokers agree!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...
